

11TH ANNUAL PEAK CYBER SYMPOSIUM

SPEAKER BIO

Nathan Stacey

Principal Solutions Architect, Elastic

Nathan Stacey is a Principal Solutions Architect at Elastic. Several DOD circles call him Dr. House for fixing their data centers' highest profile and toughest performance issues. He can still hear the servers humming from years of root cause analysis in data centers. Nathan started working in the Department of Defense in 2001. He has worked with numerous DoD community teams as they continually improve their value to the mission. Nathan has a bachelor's degree from Brigham Young University and a master's degree from Johns Hopkins University.
